Class dreams an "Impossible Dream"

On August 27, seventeen students entered the high school, looking forward to their senior year. Each one of them had dreams and expectations and worked all year long to fulfill them as best they could.

All seventeen students were involved in the various activities, ranging from holding offices in the various school organizations, to competing in sports, to working hard in academic studies.

Members of the senior class were officers in many organizations, including STUCO and FBLA, as well as being class officers. Leanne Nuessen and Linda Kehres were president and vice-president of STUCO, respectively. The senior FBLA officers were as follows: Cheryl Wagner, president; John Watts, vice-president; Leanne Nuessen, secretary; Clare Haag, reporter; Cindy Redeker, historian; Linda Kehres, parliamentarian; and Brian Kinsey, District I Vice-President. Class officers were: Clare Haag, president; Cindy Redeker, vice-president; Barb Haag, secretary; and Brian Kinsey, Haag, secretary; and Brian Kinsey, treasurer.

Many students also participated in sports. Four seniors each, competed in football and volleyball while three seniors each, took part in boys' and girls' basketball. Seniors also competed in track.

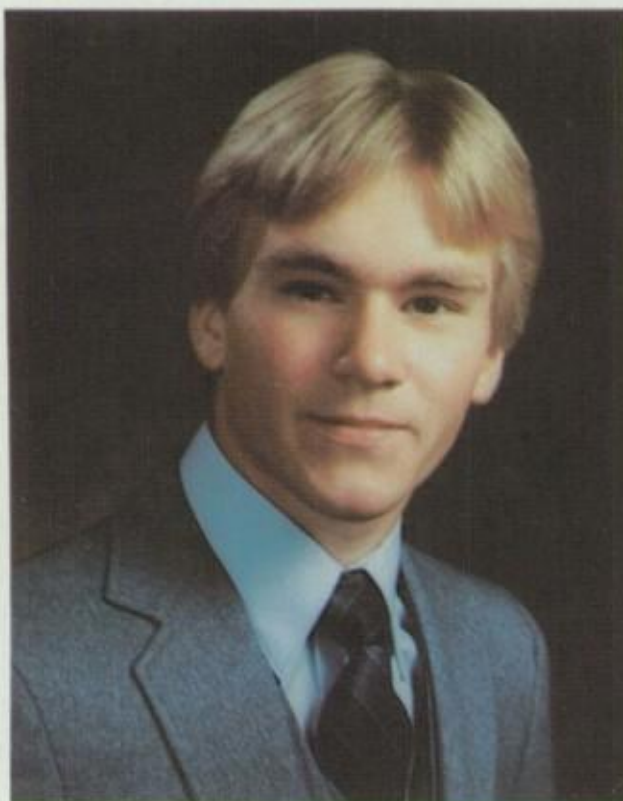

The Class of '85 also did well academically. The Quiz Bowl Team, consisting of John Watts, Brian Kinsey, Terry Wendling, and Eric Dengler, placed second at the Emporia Quiz Bowl. Also, on an average, half of the class was on the honor roll each nine weeks.

The senior class was an active class full of dreams and expectations. They worked hard to achieve their goals, as a group and as individuals.

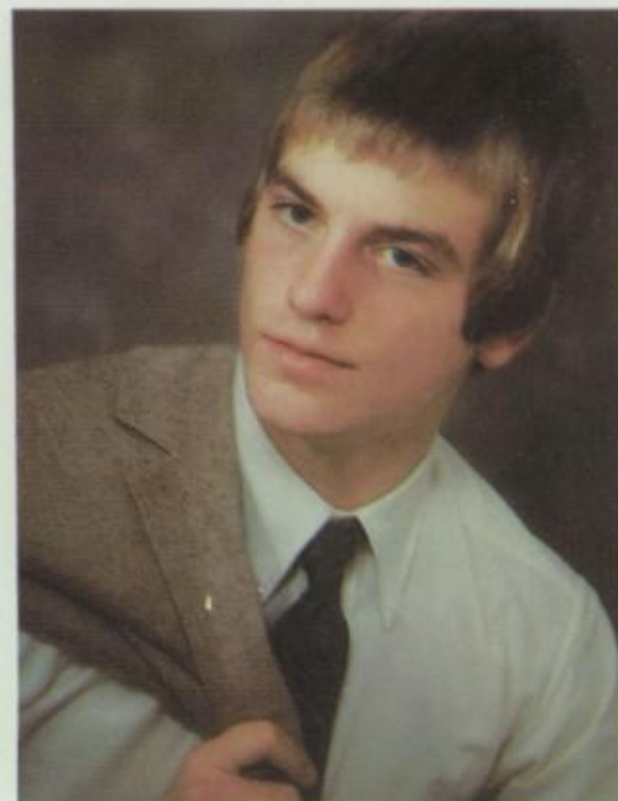

The class's greatest achievement came at 7:30 p.m. on May 16, 1985. GRADUATION had finally arrived.

Jrs. face "Tales of the Unexpected"

The junior class commenced the year filled with excitement and curiosity of what it would be like to be a junior. The juniors elected Kevin Flott, President; Keith Young, Vice-President; Camille Schmidt, Secretary; and Tami Hazlett, Treasurer.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Gloria Rifenbark and Mr. Jack Oglesby, class sponsors, the juniors operated concessions at home football and volleyball games. The juniors carried chickens at the Brinkman Chicken Farm for another moneymaking project. The money earned by the juniors was easily depleted after all prom expenses had been paid.

Nine of the juniors were active in sports. Five were involved in FBLA and three in StuCo.

The junior class received one new student this year. Tami Hazlett came from Chase County in October and became the sixteenth member of the class.

After completing an enthusiastic-filled year, the juniors are looking forward to fulfilling their dream of becoming a senior at Olpe High.

Sophomores learn "Facts of Life"

Involvement in class activities, sports, cheerleading, band, FBLA, and positive leadership in school work was demonstrated by sophomores to show that they definitely desired to know the "Facts of Life."

The majority of the class participated in sports, worked enthusiastically at concessions and were involved in marching, stage and concert band, and vocal music. Amy Wecker, Shelly Heins, Susan Nuessen and Pat Markowitz were stuco representatives. Four of the basketball cheerleaders were sophomores. They were Shelly Heins, Bregette Moyer, Megan Swope and Sheri Storrer. Eleven of the sixteen sophomores joined FBLA and worked on various FBLA committees throughout the year. Nine members took two or more test in the LCL Scholarship test.

Mr. Calvin Gunkel and Mr. Ben Osterhaus served as class sponsors.

The fifteen eager freshmen felt a break was needed throughout their first year in High School. They were involved in many activities such as FBLA, Band, Stuco, and Sports.

Lance Hazlett was a new student in the freshmen class. He transferred to Olpe from Chase County in October.

Concessions at four basketball games were the main money making project for the class. Class sponsors were Dana Cookson and Linda Hamedani.

The freshmen were very creative and their Homecoming Float won first place. Howard Cole drove the tractor that pulled a plow dragging a dummy behind it. The float's theme was "Plow em Under".

The class officers elected for the year were Chuck Benton, President; Jim Bechtel, Vice-President; Annette Krahenbuhl, Treasurer; and JoAnn Allison, Secretary.

The eighth grade prepared for another life in high school. The members of the class were actively involved in the junior high sports program. Lorie Heins and Brenda Young were Hornet cheerleaders and Kathy Brown was the Hornet mascot. The eighth graders hosted a Christmas party on December 21, for the seventh graders.

Rosy Young, Mindy Conn, and Glen Scott, new members of the 1985 class, increased the number of eighth graders to eighteen when they joined the class the first semester.

Class officers were Traci Bucher, President; Justin Redeker, Vice-president; Mindy Conn, Secretary; Kathy Brown, Treasurer.

On May 20th the eighth graders graduated from junior high to seek another life at OHS until 1989.

Mike Plunkett, jr. high boys' coach, projected vibrations in the football, basketball, and track teams. The football team had a 5-2 record and took third in the League. The basketball team had a 3-4 record, and placed fifth in the League. The boys track team placed third in their first meet, didn't place in the second meet and placed sixth in the League meet May 1.

Justin Redeker placed first in the long jump and tied the League record with a jump of 17' 10". The medley and 440 relay team consisting of Billy Redeker, Charles Steffes, Joe Cole, and Justin Redeker placed first and second respectfully. Mike Wecker placed first in the shot put.

Seventh Graders are "New Avengers"

As new avengers, the seventh graders learned to conquer their new adventures in junior high. The adventures consisted of participation in sports, concert and marching band, and hosting the eighth grade graduation party.

Most of the class was involved in sports. Nine of the students were in band. The class officers for the year were Janet Schmidt, President; Billy Redeker, Vice-President; Jennifer Haag, Secretary; and Janet Wendling, Treasurer. Janet Schmidt and Jennifer Haag were chosen as cheerleaders.

A new student, Darret Hazlett, joined the seventh grade class in October.

ACTIVITIES

Royalty lives the "Tender Years"

The week of October twenty-ninth through November second was designated as Homecoming Week. It was a week filled with fun, enthusiasm, and anticipation, especially for the ten candidates.

The ten candidates were Cindy Redeker and Keith Young, Leanne Nuessen and Derrick Duncan, Camille Schmidt and Bob Brown, and Linda Kehres and John Watts.

The excitement began on Monday and lasted through the dance Friday night. This was encouraged with special activities every day of the week. There was Twin Day, Spook Day on Halloween, Cowboy Day, as well as Green and Gold Day.

No classes were held on Friday due to the parent-teacher conferences so the parade was scheduled Thursday during the activity period.

Each class created a float and the local businessmen also entered floats. The freshmen won the contest for the best float with the theme "Plow 'em under."

Friday finally arrived and Olpe faced Flinthills on the football field. Olpe came away with a 16-6 victory and everyone's attention turned to the gymnasium for the crowning.

The couples were introduced and it was then time to learn who would be the 1984 Homecoming King and Queen.

The names were read and Keith Young, a junior, and Linda Kehres, a senior, were crowned by the returning king and queen, Steve Redeker and Tammy Merry.

The dance began with the king and queen's dance to "Tender Years," the Homecoming theme.

Holiday "Cheers" to you

The annual Christmas dance, sponsored by the seniors, was held on December 14, from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. The seniors spent last hour activity period decorating the OHS gymnasium to inspire Christmas cheer.

Four silver Christmas trees, and two green ones were decorated and placed down the middle of the dance floor. A wooden Santa and his reindeers set in front of the stage and a red light emphasized Rudolph's red nose.

Lon Ray and his disco provided the music for the night. The senior girls prepared a variety of Christmas candies and cookies for the dance, and punch was served.

This year the students demonstrated the Christmas spirit by decorating the halls instead of classroom doors. Stuco assigned each class a different hallway to decorate. The sophomores were recognized for doing an outstanding job of decorating the front hall.

'NCAA Football' at OHS?

The 1985 all-school play, chosen by Ms. Dana Cookson, director, was "Hail The Hunkering Hero." It was a farce-comedy.

The play was presented in a matinee at 1:00 on May 8, and the following night at 7:00.

The story of the play depicted the struggle of Clifford Schnorkel (Brian Haag), the hillbilly hunkering hero, in his climatic and meteoric rise from an unknown to a famous and popular football hero at Gillette Tech. University.

Add to this Maw and Paw Schnorkel, a boisterous hot-tempered little coach, a group of stunning campus cuties, an all-beef-and-no-brain football team and lack-luster cheerleaders (Norma Kehres, Sheri Storrer, JoAnn Allison, and Shelly Heins) and the result is a fun-filled farce for all.

It was a farce from the gun, and its break-neck, slam bang pace continued to the final curtain.

The stage crew included Eric Sporing, Dennis Brown, Howard Cole, Pam Brown, Annette Krahenbuhl, Michelle Blaufuss, Karen Bechtel, and Mrs. Linda Hamedani.

John and Leanne "You're the Inspiration"

"From that night until the end of time
You should know, everywhere we go
Always on our mind, you're in our hearts In our souls . . .
You brought meaning to our lives,
You're the Inspiration"

John Watts and Leanne Nuessen became an inspiration to all as they were crowned the 1985 King and Queen of Courts. The ceremonies were held February 8, following the basketball game against Northern Heights.

Red carpet was rolled down the gym floor for the procession of royalty and a white oriental archway, highlighted with silver streamers, stood at center court. The stage curtains bore three hot air balloons and the theme "You're the Inspiration" in silver lettering.

The excitement of the crowning was alleviated by the sounds of Rick Allen at the Student Council sponsored dance that followed.

"An Evening in Paradise"

"An Evening in Paradise" was the theme for the 1985 Junior-Senior Prom. The Prom was held April 27 in the Olpe High gymnasium.

Before the dinner, Toastmistress Sherry Windle introduced the speakers. A welcome was given by Kevin Flott and Clare Haag answered with a response. Juniors Keith Young and Tami Hazlett read the prophecy and senior class wills were read by Cheryl Wagner and Cindy Redeker. Closing remarks were made by Sherry Windle.

The junior mothers prepared the meal consisting of Tiki Fruit Salad, Luau Ham with Pineapple ring, Paradise Potatoes, Aloha Beans, Hawaiian Bread, Sunset Cake, and Tropical Punch. Members of the freshmen class were servers.

From 9:00 to 11:00 p.m., juniors and guests danced to music provided by the 97 FM Party Patrol.

Sponsors for the Prom were Jack Oglesby and Gloria Rifenburg.

ACADEMICS

Eagles are "Puttin' on the Hits"

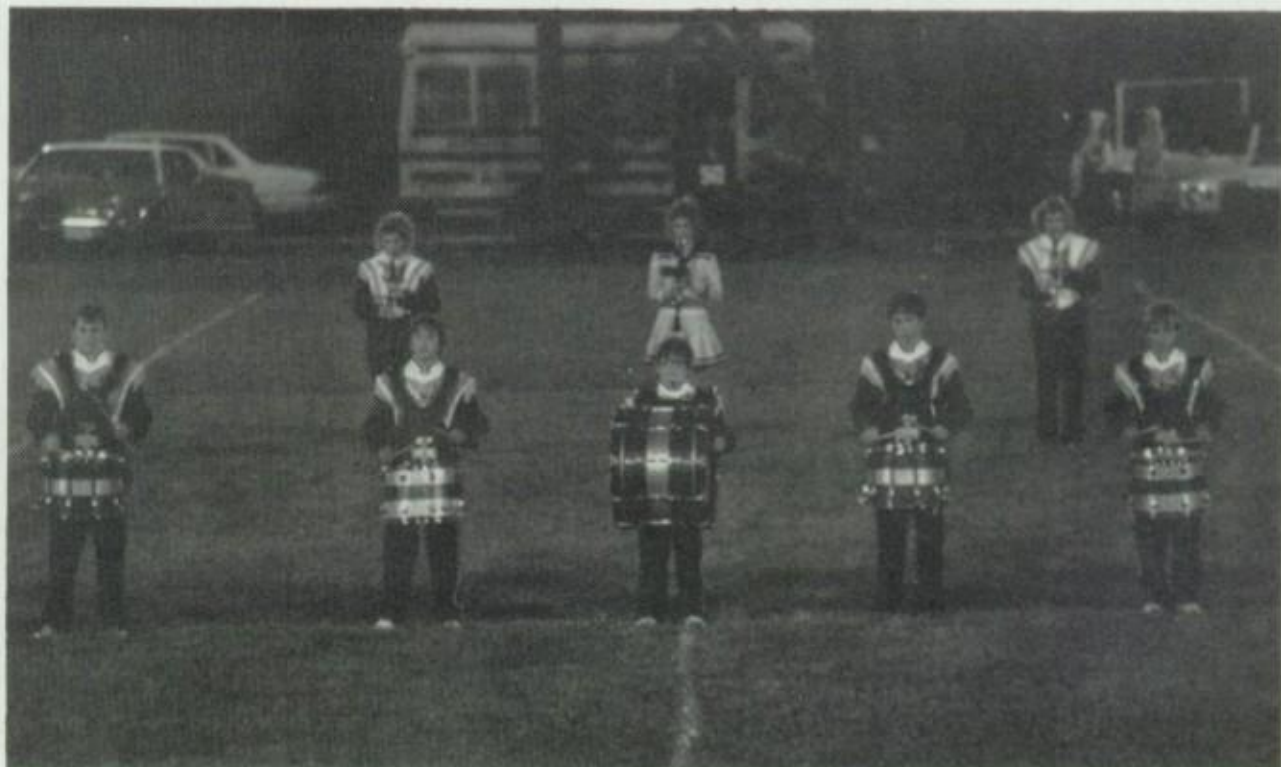

The Olpe High School Marching Band performed at five home football games. The band consisted of thirty-eight members, and six color guards.

The pre-game shows consisted of the songs, "God Bless America," "America the Beautiful," and "The National Anthem." Half-time included "All Time High," "Let There Be Peace On Earth," "Gospel Blues," and "I Got Rhythm."

The band participated in the annual Veteran's Day parade in Emporia on November 12. The members marched eight blocks to the song "Excalibur."

Seven seniors have been involved in concert and marching band since their seventh grade year. Cheryl Wagner, Brian Kinsey, Clare Haag, Cindy Redeker, Leanne Nuessen, Linda Kehres, and John Watts participated in stage band during their high school years.

The ten vocal members took part in the Lyon County League Vocal Music Festival at Madison High School on November 20. They were one of the nine groups that performed individually. The group sang "Walk with Me."

Shop creates "Risky Business"

Sawing, gluing, hammering, sanding, welding, changing oil, repairing and replacing parts, and drafting bridge plans could have been "Risky Business" in the six shop classes. However, under the watchful and careful eye of shop teacher, Mr. Calven Gunkel, the shop students produced some excellent projects.

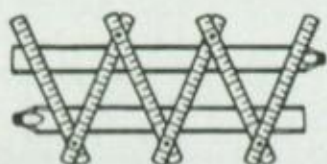

The drafting class drew isometric, and dimensional drawings. The Shop II students constructed a variety of items such as: a chest of drawers, a wall cabinet, a floor shelf, a tool box, and stereo speakers. Welding students created strap, t, lap, and vertical welds. Students in the basic, advanced, and woods and welding shop classes made projects like tables, nightstands, teacarts, a rocking horse, and also students took on the task of refinishing objects like tables, high chairs, and guns.

Many of these projects were entered at the Industrial Arts Fair at ESU on May 2 and 3.

Home Ec students "Sew What's New"

Mrs. Dianne Heins once again taught Home Ec I, II, and IV. In addition, she taught the 8th grade English class, as well as the 7th grade girls' English class.

In Home Ec I and II, the students spent most of the first semester cooking. They then moved on to sewing for the second semester. The students completed a variety of garments, including shirts, skirts, slacks, and sweat tops.

Home Ec IV students spent the year sewing, knitting, cake decorating, studying interior design, and making Christmas items.

Students entered various items in the Home Ec Fair. The following people received ribbons for clothing projects: HOME EC I-Annette Krahenbuhl, blue, and Karen Bechtel, red. HOME EC II-Blues went to Leanne Nuessen, Linda Kehres, and Susan Nuessen; red, Carmen Wendling; and a white went to Shelley Bomberger. Shelley Bomberger also received a blue on a needle point project, while Karen Bechtel, JoAnn Allison, and Susan Nuessen all received blue ribbons on their Nutrition Posters.

The English students studied the parts of speech, reading, and spelling. They also spent time on several small writing assignments. The year was concluded with a term paper.

Students learn "Different Strokes"

Mrs. Gloria Rifembark taught students different and new strokes in each of her classes. She taught five different subjects, including General Business, Accounting, Typing I, and Introduction to Computers. Mrs. Rifembark also taught a Typing II class, a subject which wasn't taught last year.

Typing I began by learning the keyboard and then moved on to letter, memorandum, and report styles. They also worked on timed writings in order to increase their production rate.

Typing II worked to increase speed and production of various types of letters and memorandums. They built up speed and production by having timed productions where they typed as much as possible within the given time.

General Business worked on increasing business skills which are important to everyday living. These subjects included banking, insurance, credit, and personal record management.

Accounting worked with basic record keeping, including journals, ledger, worksheets, and reports.

Introduction to Computers learned the basics of computer programming and various ways to use graphics in programs.

It was a year of new and different strokes.

Math students "Get Smart"

The math students used their talents and knowledge to increase their understanding of the basics and to, hopefully, make them a little smarter.

Mrs. Sharon Carnes taught six math classes. The classes were general math, consumer math, Algebra I, geometry, Algebra II, and trigonometry. The classes varied in difficulty but they all provided work with solving problems and equations.

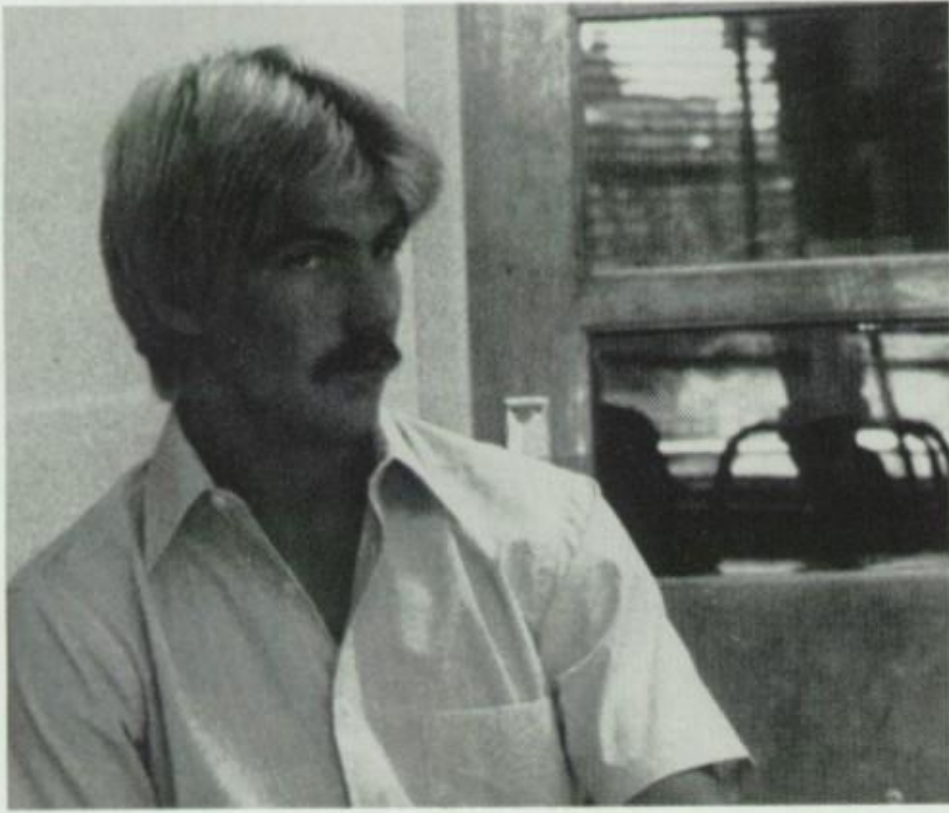

The students used the computers when they were beneficial to the class and the software was applicable. The trigonometry students used the computers to check finished graphs while the Algebra I and II class as well as general math students used them for practice with basic problem solving and graphing.

In addition to actively participating in class, students from the geometry, Algebra II, and trigonometry classes participated in the Math Day, held at Emporia State University on Wednesday, October 31, 1984.

Scientists "Search for Tomorrow"

Mr. Ben Osterhaus, the new science teacher, taught chemistry, two classes of biology, general science, and the seventh and eighth grade science classes.

He graduated from Nemeha Valley High School. He majored in chemistry at Kansas Wesleyan in Salina.

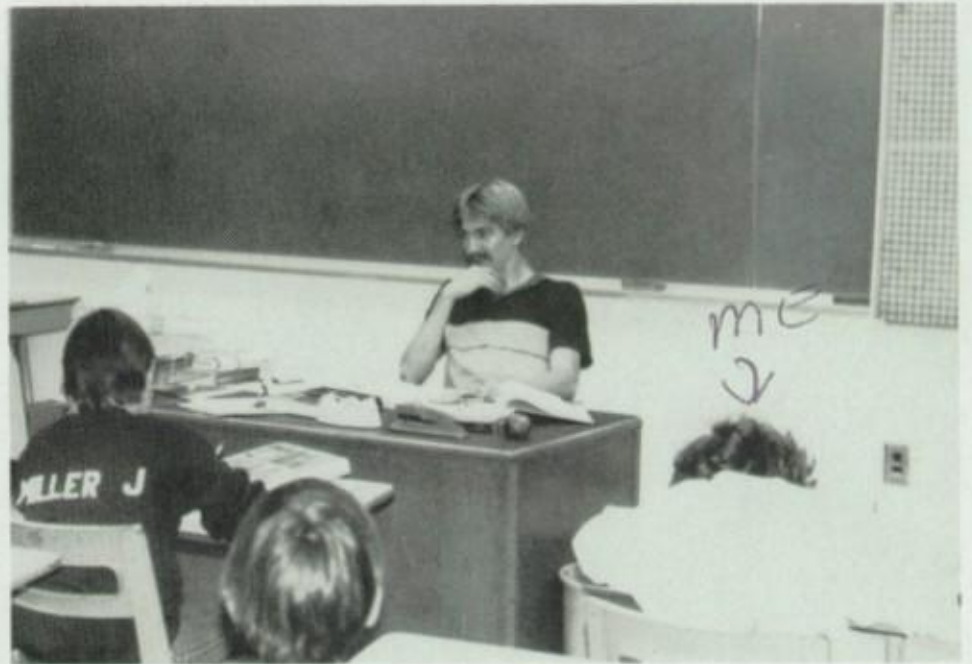

In one unit, the chemistry students studied compound components and how to separate elements that are in compounds.

The biology students studied genetics. They discovered what caused Down Syndrome and sickle cell anemia. They learned what the four major blood types are and how each is inherited.

The general science class studied a unit about the formation of fossil fuel. Mr. Osterhaus explained the formation of coal from decaying trees.

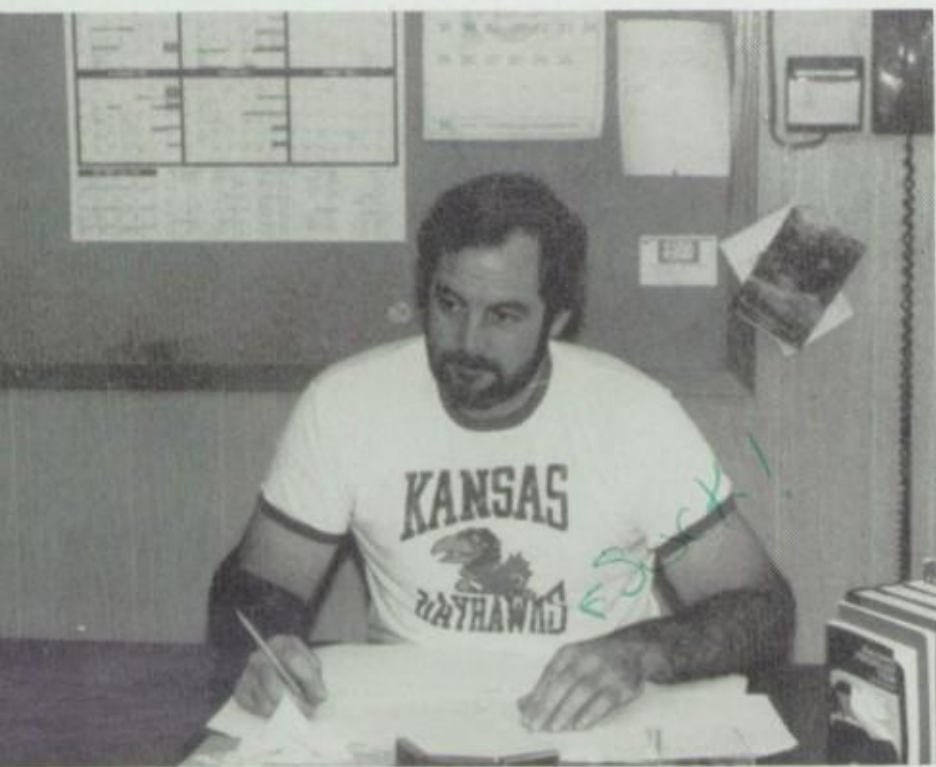

In one area the seventh graders studied mushroom parts and the reproductive cells.

How copper burns green and calcium burns brick red was one scientific fact revealed to the eighth grade science class.

Psych class seeks "Inside Story"

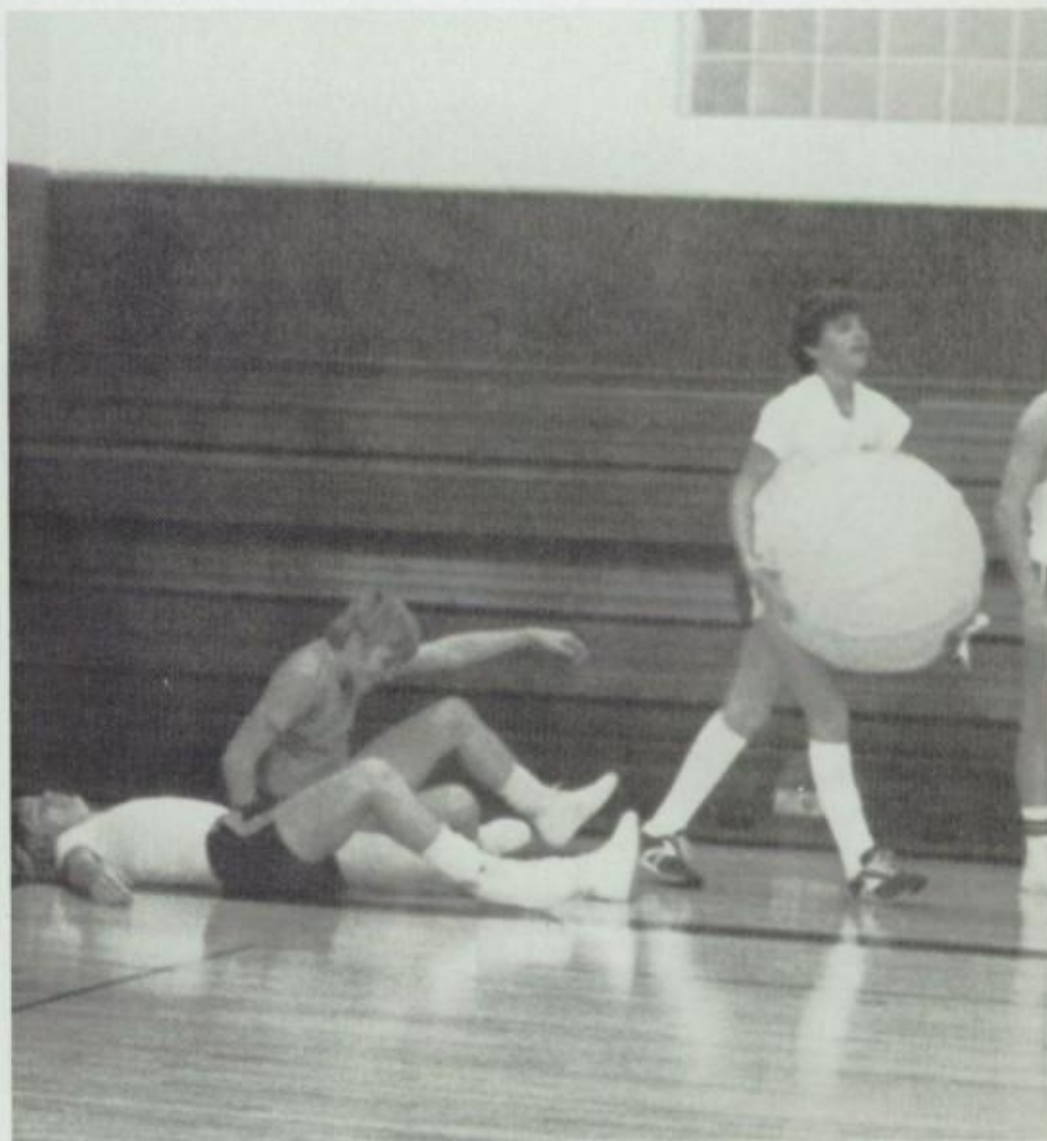

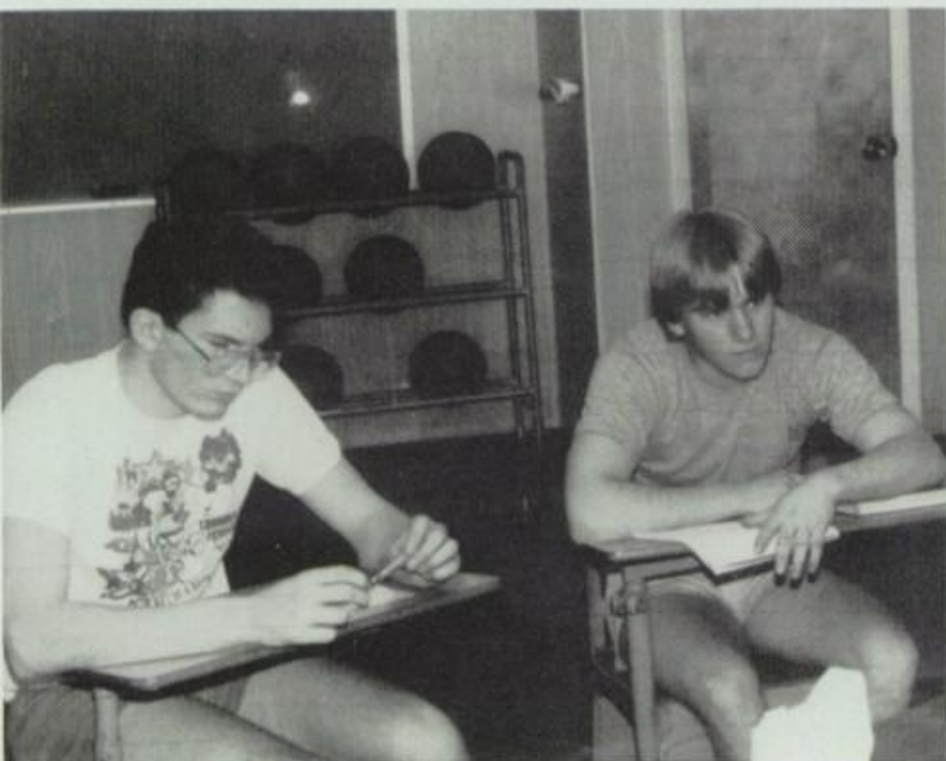

Mr. Bill Cowan taught five classes. They were, Psychology, Current Events, Freshmen P.E., Advanced P.E. and Seventh and Eight grade P.E. He was the Head Football and Boys Basketball Coach and the Assistant Girls Basketball Coach. He co-sponsored the senior class with Mr. Nelson and as Activities Director coordinated the schedule for all school events.

In Mr. Cowan's Psychology class, he emphasized to the students how to become a better person. The students studied their environment and people in their lives.

In Current Events the class members kept on top of things every day by reading USA TODAY, which is the top selling newspaper in the United States. They also discussed articles from other newspapers. The NEWSWEEK magazine, which came once every week, added in depth reports on current issues for the students. Students looked forward to the weekly NEWSWEEK magazine exams!!!!

Eight students participated in Advanced P.E. They worked out on weights and engaged in other diversified physical activities.

Observe "How the West Was Won"

Although none of Mr. Ogelsby's classes really observed "How the West Was Won", his World History and American History classes did observe various wars.

World Wars I and II and their issues were observed in World History. The class also used workbooks and filmstrips to aid in their understanding of the different periods in history. Mr. Ogelsby enlightened the class with highlights of the Crusades, the Renaissance, and the Industrial Revolution.

The American History class had an in depth look at the Vietnam War and viewed video's of World War II. The location of states and presidential order were the main emphasis in the class. Students also studied trends, reforms, and national monuments.

The Government class viewed the presidential debates and worked on law briefs of important Supreme Court cases. The class spent much of their time learning how Congress and the Supreme Court work. They often found themselves involved in activities that enabled them to portray government officials. Guest speakers came in throughout the year to inform the class about various colleges and to help them in planning their future.

TOP: Carol Bechtel works on a Government assignment. MIDDLE: Brian Haag retrieves his American History book. RIGHT: Sheri Storrer participates in discussion. ABOVE: Mr. Ogelsby gives a lecture.

Ask "Your Question Please"

Twelve OHS students found themselves asking and answering many questions as they became first year participants in the Quiz Bowl which Ms. Dana Cookson sponsored.

Ms. Cookson's Forensics class consisted of only two students but they had a lot of fun, especially with stage make-up. The class also covered different types of speeches, terms of voice, diction, introduction, and conclusion.

The College Prep class began the year reviewing grammar, spelling, and basic writing. They progressed to writing term papers and reading English Literature. The students began each day by writing in journals.

The English III class also began their days writing in journals. Grammar was the main concentration in the class but spelling and vocabulary were kept as weekly tasks. The class enjoyed reading plays and spent some time reading American Literature.

The English IV class reviewed grammar, paragraph writing, media, and spelling then progressed to writing term papers.

Speech was a class in which the students learned more about themselves, which in turn, enabled them to communicate with others easily.

Class explores "Body Electric"

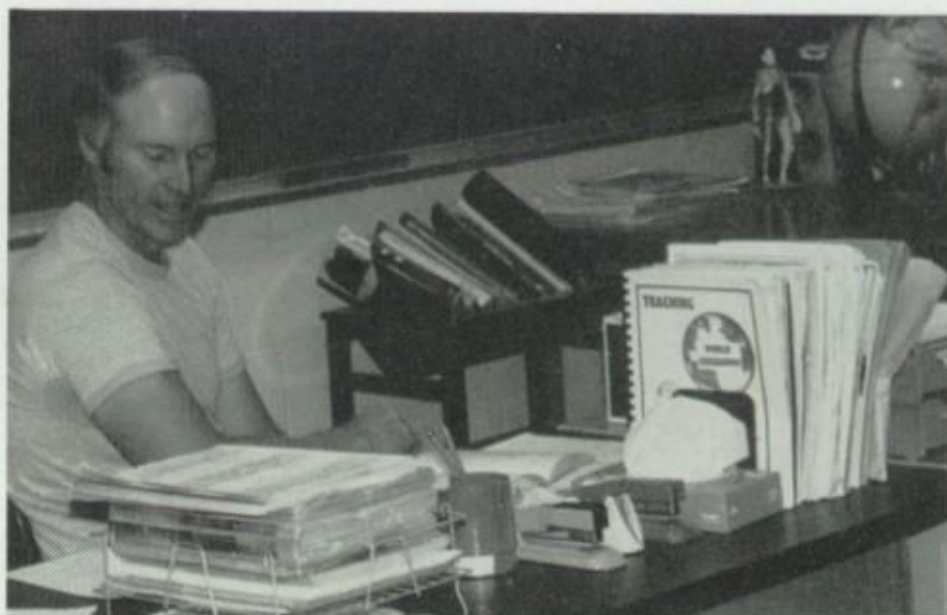

Tell a friend his body is seething with electrical activity and he will probably smile in disbelief. But actually all the nerve impulses that control his actions are caused by electrical activity called bioelectricity. Not only does the body conduct electricity, but the freshman class studied the human anatomy, including the digestive, respiration and circulatory systems. They were taught first aid once a week and learned about different emergency situations and how to deal with them. They also studied many different types of diseases and their symptoms.

The countries of Western and Central Europe and the Soviet Union were studied by 7th grade World Geography class. The class learned the differences between the people of these areas. The physical geography, vegetation and climate of these areas were studied. Emphasis was placed on the study and use of maps.

How Kansas developed into a state was studied by the 7th grade Kansas History class.

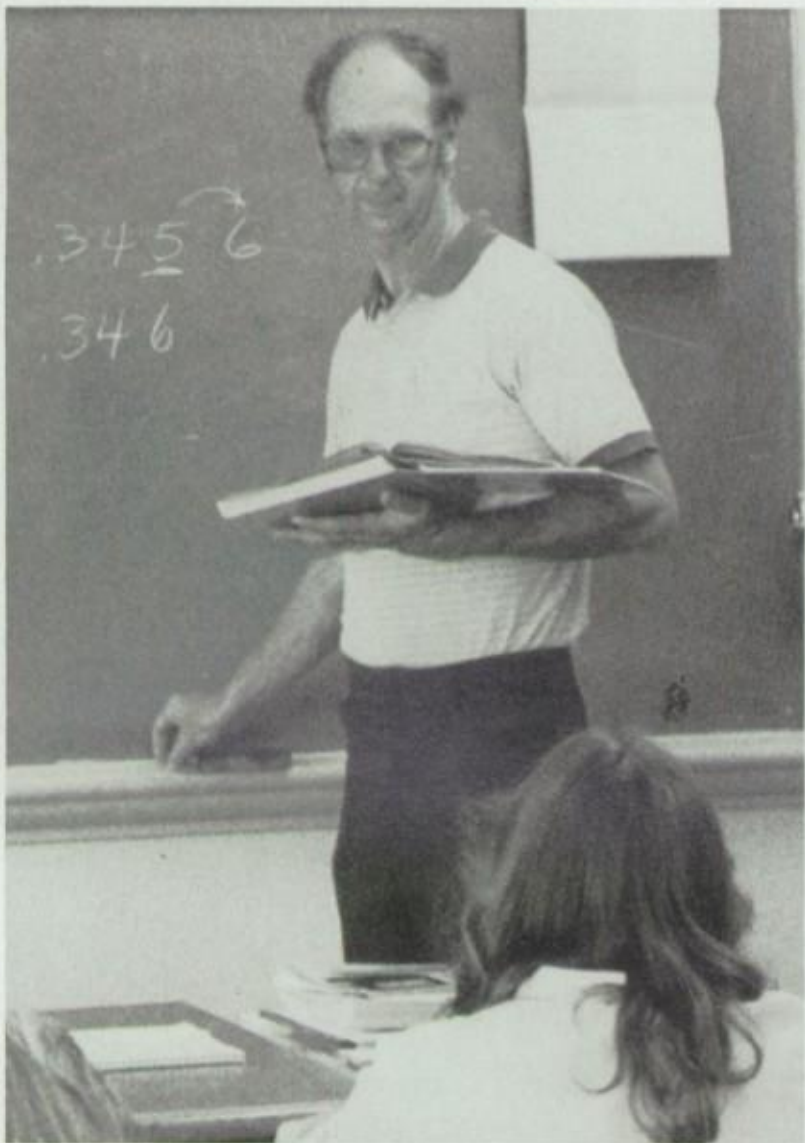

The colonization of America, and the different struggles of World War I and World War II were studied by the 8th grade U.S. History class.

Mr. Mike Plunkett was assistant football and head track coach for the high school. He was also Jr. High football and boys basketball coach. He taught Jr. High boys P.E. and assisted girls P.E., Freshman Health, 7th grade World Geography, 7th grade Kansas History, and 8th grade U.S. History.

Counselor "Searches for Solutions"

John Schwalm not only searched for solutions as the new counselor but also taught math solutions to the jr. high students.

Before coming to OHS, Mr. Schwalm coached basketball at Alma, Council Grove, and Jefferson County North.

As a first year counselor Mr. Schwalm discovered he was always searching for information to aid students seeking scholarship advise, helping students find solutions to problems, and continually working with a variety of testing programs given to the students. He also coordinated the OHS and Jr. High entries in the League scholarship contest.

Mr. Schwalm said that he has been very happy as a counselor at OHS and liked working here very much.

Library shows "Coming Attractions"

The main attraction in the OHS Library was the new librarian, Linda Hamedani. Mrs. Hamedani was born in German Town, Tennessee. She attended school at South Side in German Town. She received her B.S. in education in 1966 and N.L.M. degree (Educational Media) in 1979. She is presently working on her doctorate.

Mrs. Hamedani was the librarian at Harmony Hill. She sponsored the elementary students in a contest which required usage of reference books to answer interesting and sometimes obscure questions. She also sponsored a Readathon which was designed to encourage an interest in reading as well as raise funds for the Eastern Kansas patient services and medical research for the Multiple Sclerosis Society.

The library received other attractions, a computer, a free subscription to Money Magazine, and a portable video cassette recorder.

When asked how she liked working as librarian at Olpe High School, she replied, "It has been good. It has been an interesting experience working with this age group."

Freshmen drive "Highway to Heaven"

Mr. Nelson, the Driver's Ed teacher, probably felt like he was riding on the "Highway to Heaven" when he began teaching the freshmen how to drive.

The students learned how to operate and maintain an automobile and studied the traffic rules and regulations. The students compiled a notebook that contained articles of traffic accidents. These articles were discussed with class members.

After the first nine weeks some students transferred to P.E. class while others took turns driving and observing until each student reached his required driving time, six hours of driving and two hours of observing.

Not only was Mr. Nelson the Driver's Ed instructor, but he was also head girls basketball coach, Jr. High head girls basketball coach, girls track coach, assistant boys basketball coach, and senior class co-sponsor. He also taught P.E. at St. Joseph's School and Harmony Hill.

"Insights" taught in English

English I students discussed the insights of human nature in Mrs. Schmidt's class, while English II students learned of the encounters of human relationships. Both classes concentrated on verbs, sentence structure, and paragraph composition.

Oral and written communication were equally emphasized in Spanish I. The students followed the process of learning a language by first hearing the sounds and seeing the symbols, then speaking and reading, and at last writing. They also worked with vocabulary, grammar, oral dialogue, and written cultural units.

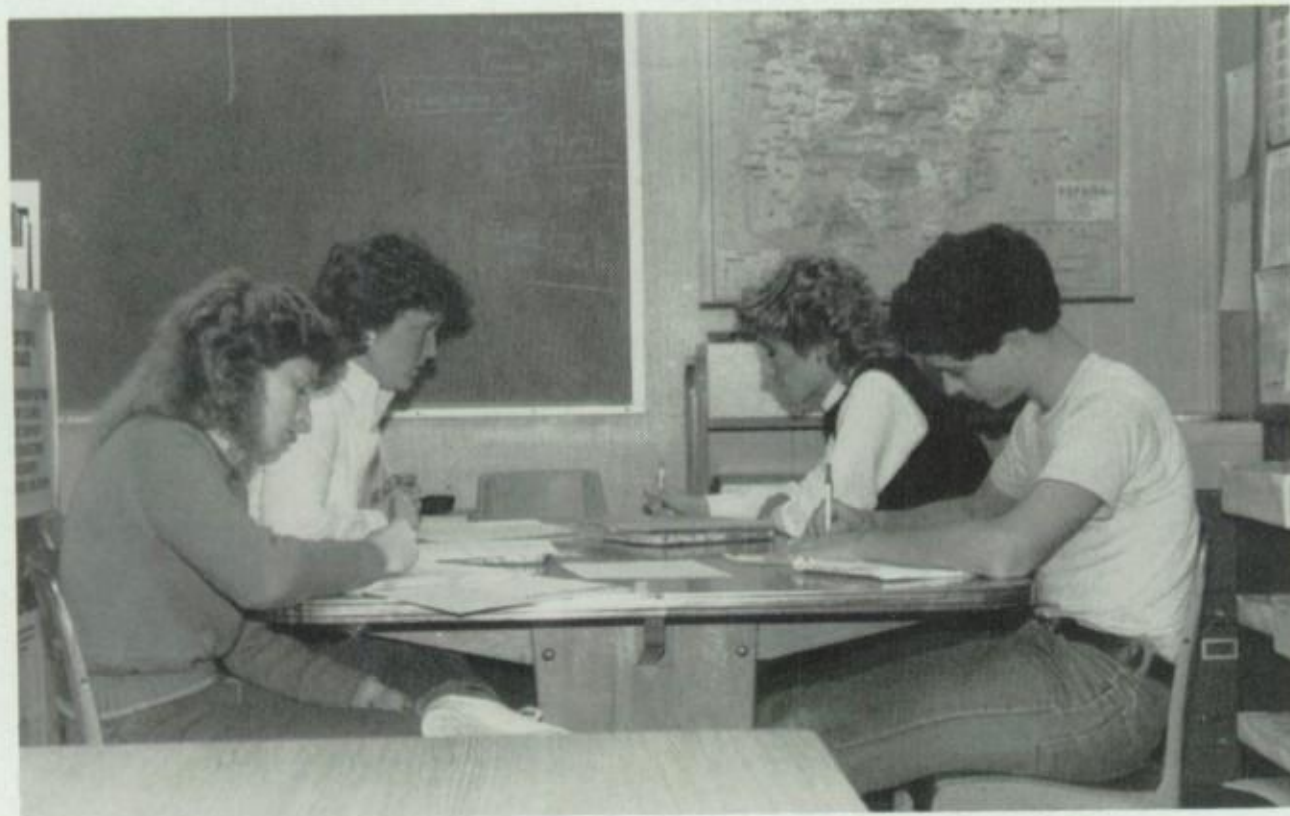

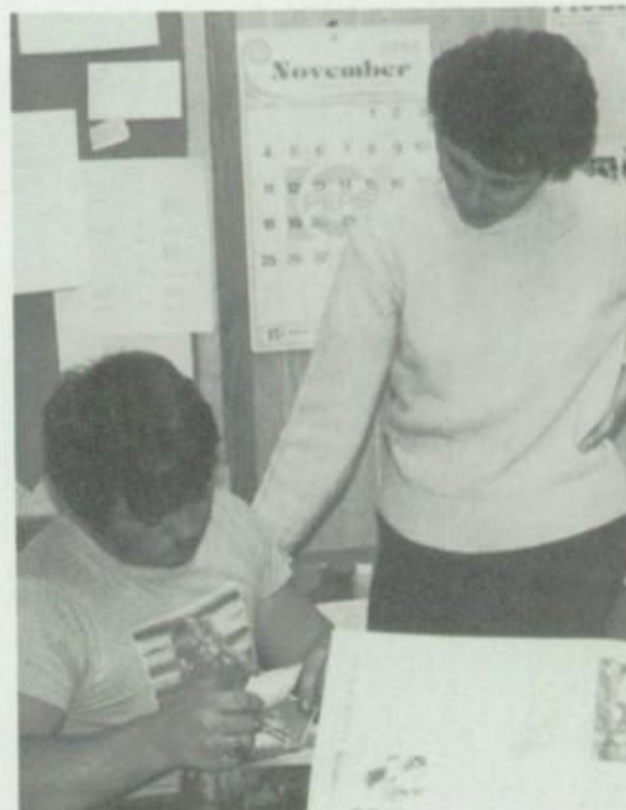

The Journalism class consisted of four Juniors who published six issues of the Olpe Outlook. The students were taught how to write copy, do layouts and paste-ups, and use the camera.

The seventh grade students were introduced to various parts of speech and completed weekly spelling units in their English class.

In addition to these classes Mrs. Schmidt was the Yearbook advisor.

"Eagle Factory" meets deadline

The Yearbook staff worked diligently to meet their deadline, and although at times it seemed impossible, alas it was met.

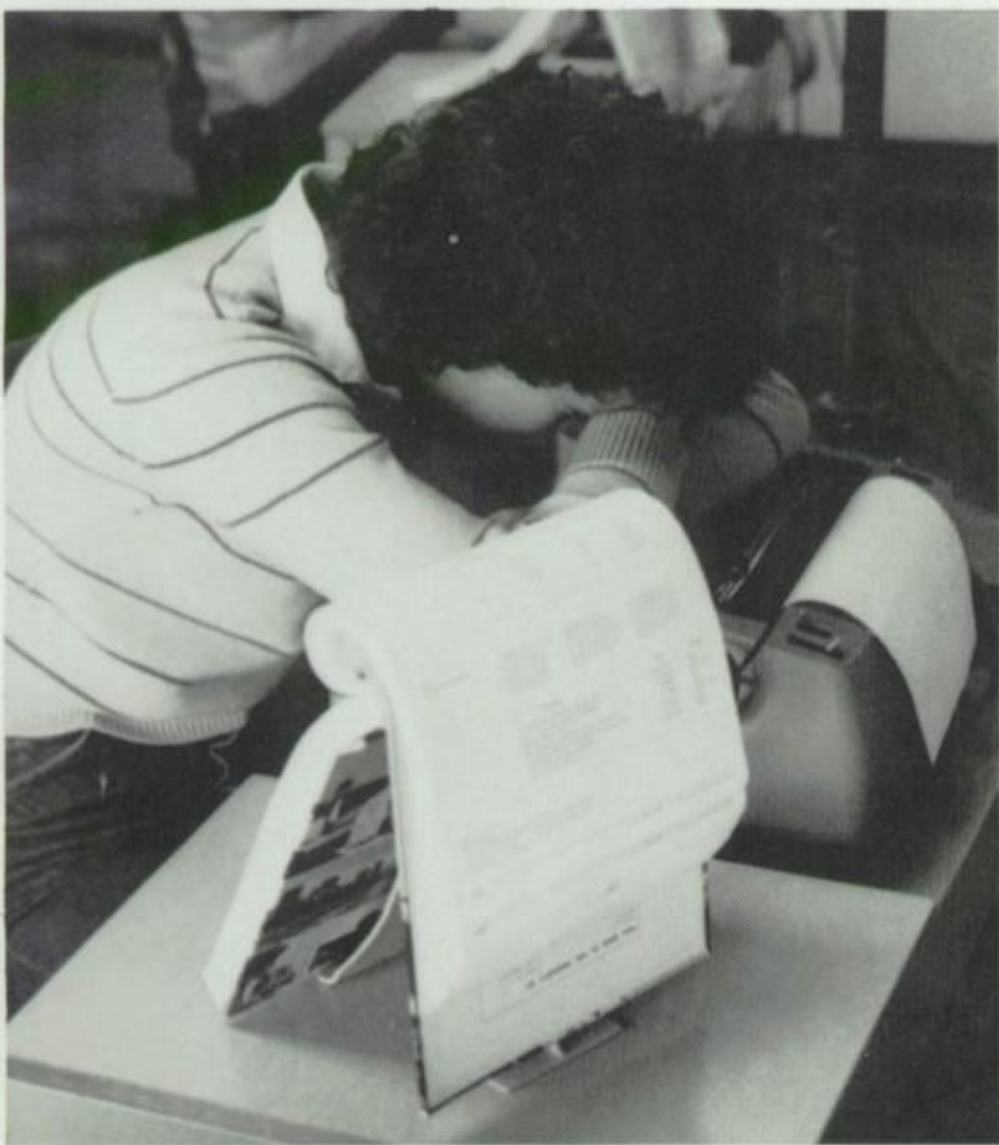

The staff consisted of eight members who performed various jobs throughout the year. The students have been captured performing their tasks in the surrounding pictures.

ORGANIZATIONS

Stuco is "Going All the Way"

Stuco members broke in the new sponsor, Mr. John Schwalm. He was introduced to many activities sponsored by Stuco and was helpful to the members.

Members started off the year selling magazines for a money making project. The top salespersons were Leanne Nuessen and Linda Kehres.

Stuco sponsored a Senior Citizens Day on April 19th. They also held a car wash and bake sale in the Spring.

Homecoming and Queen of Courts were sponsored by Stuco and the decorations, disco, and refreshments were arranged by the members.

FBLA is "Planning for Success"

Future Business Leaders in Olpe and success seem to go together. For the fifth time since the chapter was reactivated in 1979, they received a Gold Seal for their outstanding accomplishments.

One of their many accomplishments was having a state officer. Brian Kinsey held the office of District 1 Vice-President and his main responsibility was to host District Contests. The contests were held February 2 at Olpe High School and became the highlight of the year. The chapter also had representatives at the Summer Leadership Camp in Council Grove, the Fall Leadership Conference in Rossville, the State Interviews in Oskaloosa, the Mountain Plains Conference in Kansas City, and the State Conference in Emporia.

Many members placed in the District contests but were not as fortunate at the state level. The scrapbook and newsletter that Clare Haag produced both received third place, Cindy Redeker's historian's report received fourth place and Brian Kinsey received fourth place in Clerk Typist II at the State Conference. The Gold Seal awarded to the chapter at State will be entered at the National Contest in Houston, Texas.

Some of the chapter's other accomplishments were completing the activity board, holding a Bowl-a-thon for March of Dimes, having a town clean-up day in cooperation with the local Lions Club, observing Free Enterprise Day by holding a poster contest for the Harmony Hill students, holding a Master-type contest for high school students, and providing treats for the grade school students on holidays.

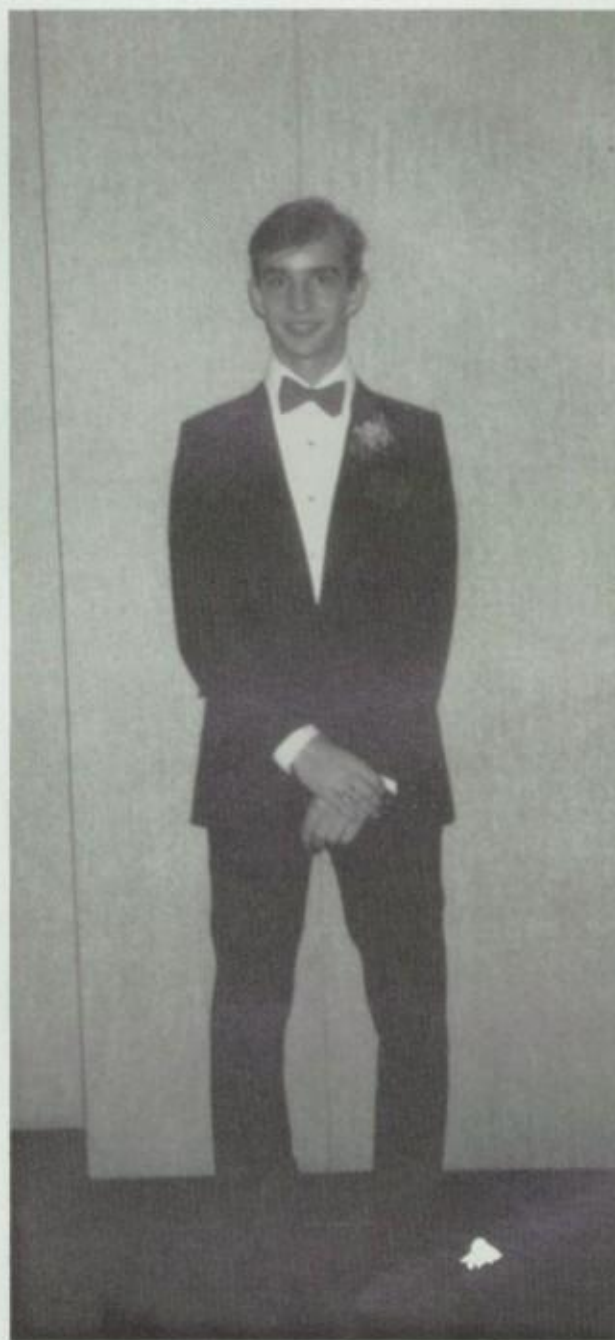

The chapter's success could be attributed to the local officers, but it's not. It took the whole chapter and their advisor, Mrs. Gloria Rifenbark, to accomplish what they have. They all know that the dictionary is the only place where success comes before work.

SPORTS

Team fights like the "A-Team"

The Eagles had only three returning lettermen but the team proved to be a challenge for all members of the league.

The team began the season with a disappointing loss to Jayhawk-Linn. They didn't give up though; they fought hard against all of their opponents. But, they just couldn't seem to pull off a victory in any of the next five games.

The closest scores of any of the games were the Northern Heights and Madison final scores. Olpe lost to Northern Heights by one point and was able to hold Madison to only three total points.

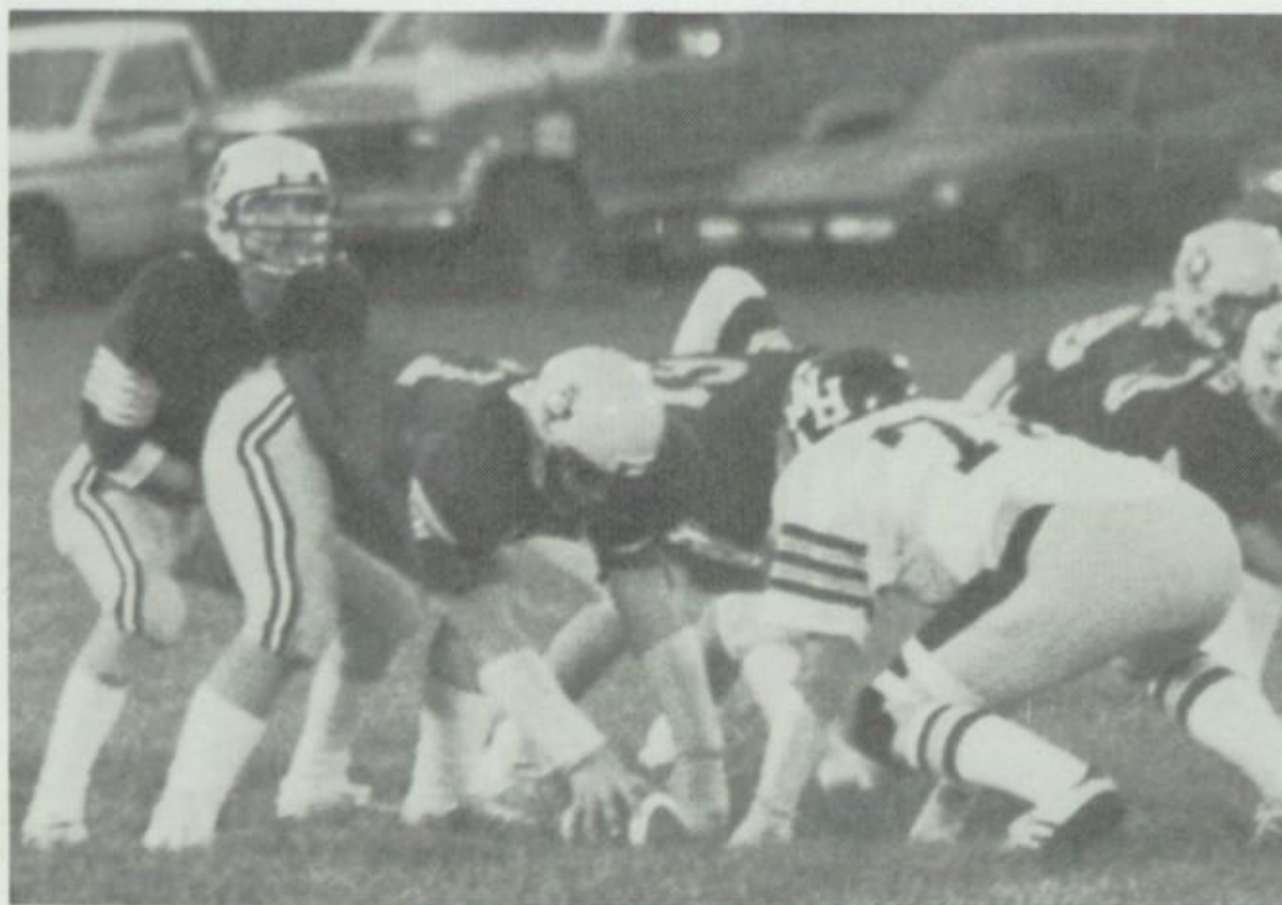

The losing streak was finally broken when Olpe defeated Waverly, 8-2. The victory was short-lived when they lost the next game to Hartford.

Olpe topped off its season by regaining their composure and defeating Flinthills in Olpe's Homecoming game.

Fourteen players lettered. They were seniors: Roy Nuessen, Eric Dengler, Terry Wendling, and Bob Brown; juniors: Brian Haag, Derrick Duncan, Kevin Flott, Randy Heins, and Keith Young; sophomores: Pat Markowitz, Chris Schmidt, Kyle Schmidt, and Alan Haag; and freshman: Chuck Benton.

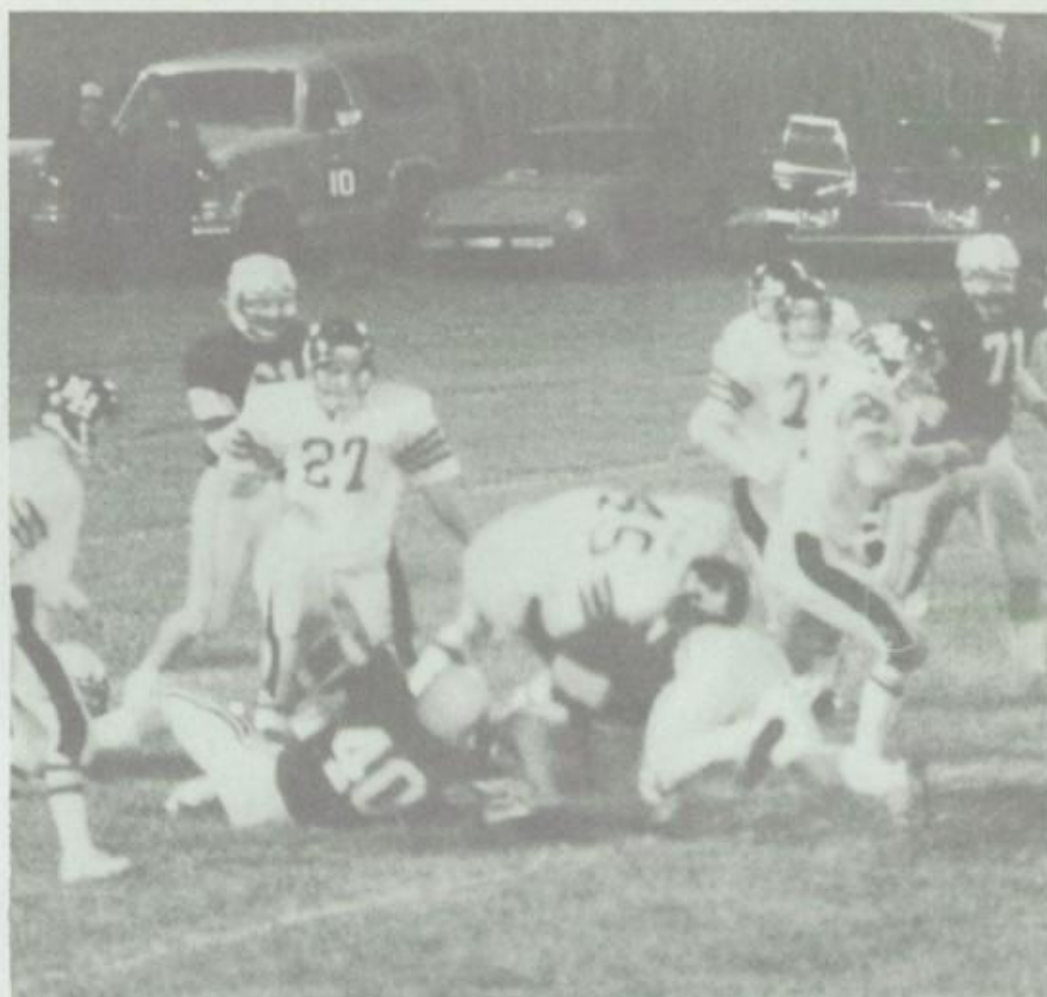

Cindy Redeker, Clare Haag, and Joan Williams lettered for keeping the team's statistics.

Coaches give a new "Guiding Light"

Under the direction of their two new coaches, Jack Oglesby and Dana Cookson, the Lady Eagles began the season optimistically.

The ladies lost to Burlington and Chase County in their first triangular but fought back to even their record at 2-2 by defeating Hartford and Northern Heights.

After two more triangulars, held at Emporia and Gridley, the Lady Eagles concluded their pre-league play with a 3-5 record.

Stiff league competition and a minor lack of experience resulted in a final league record of 3-5.

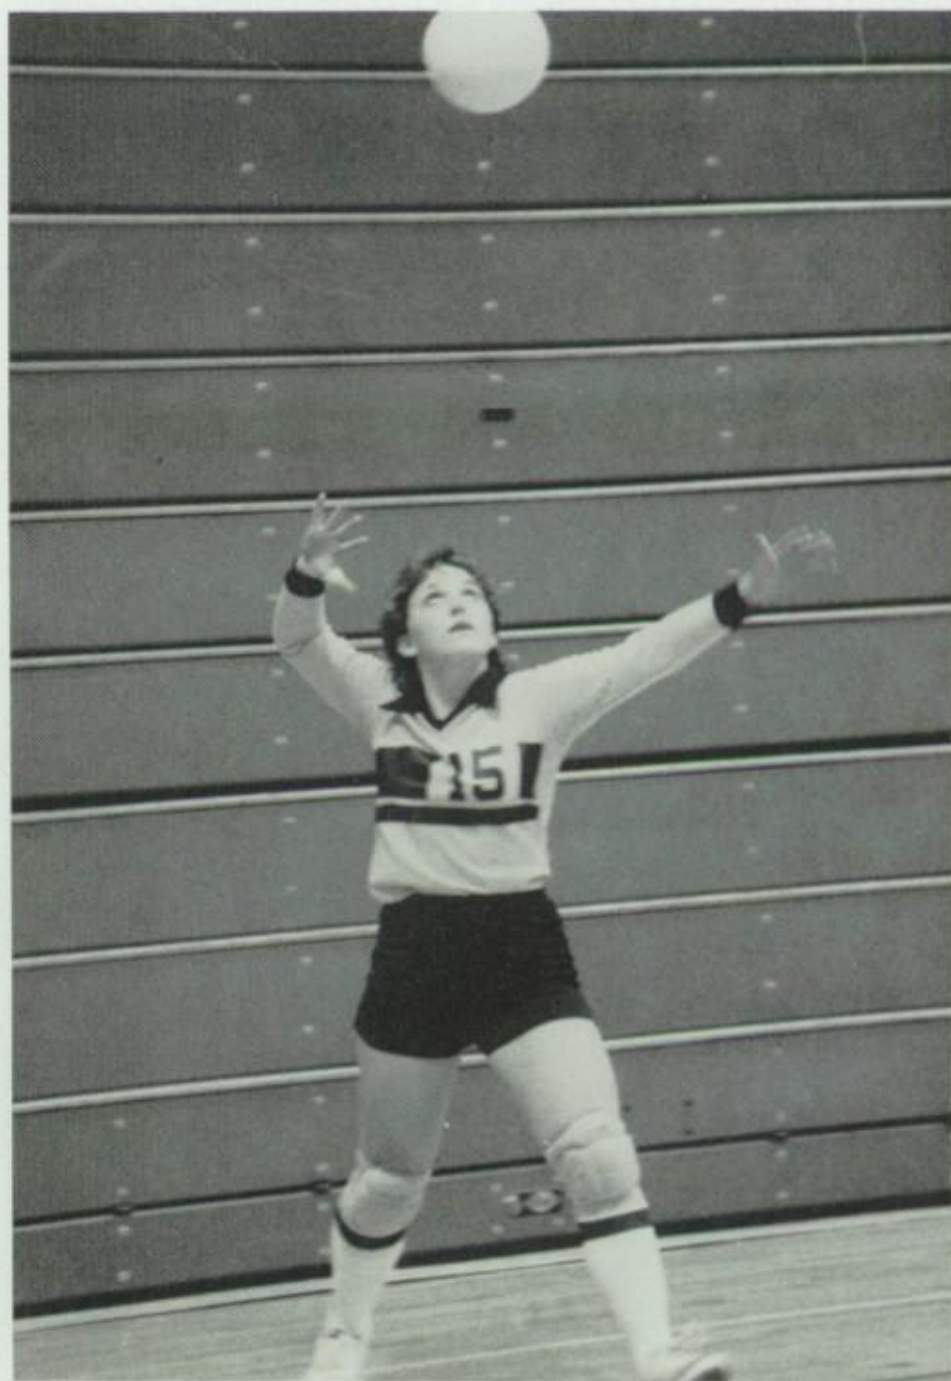

Olpe gained their three wins by defeating Waverly, Hamilton, and Hartford.

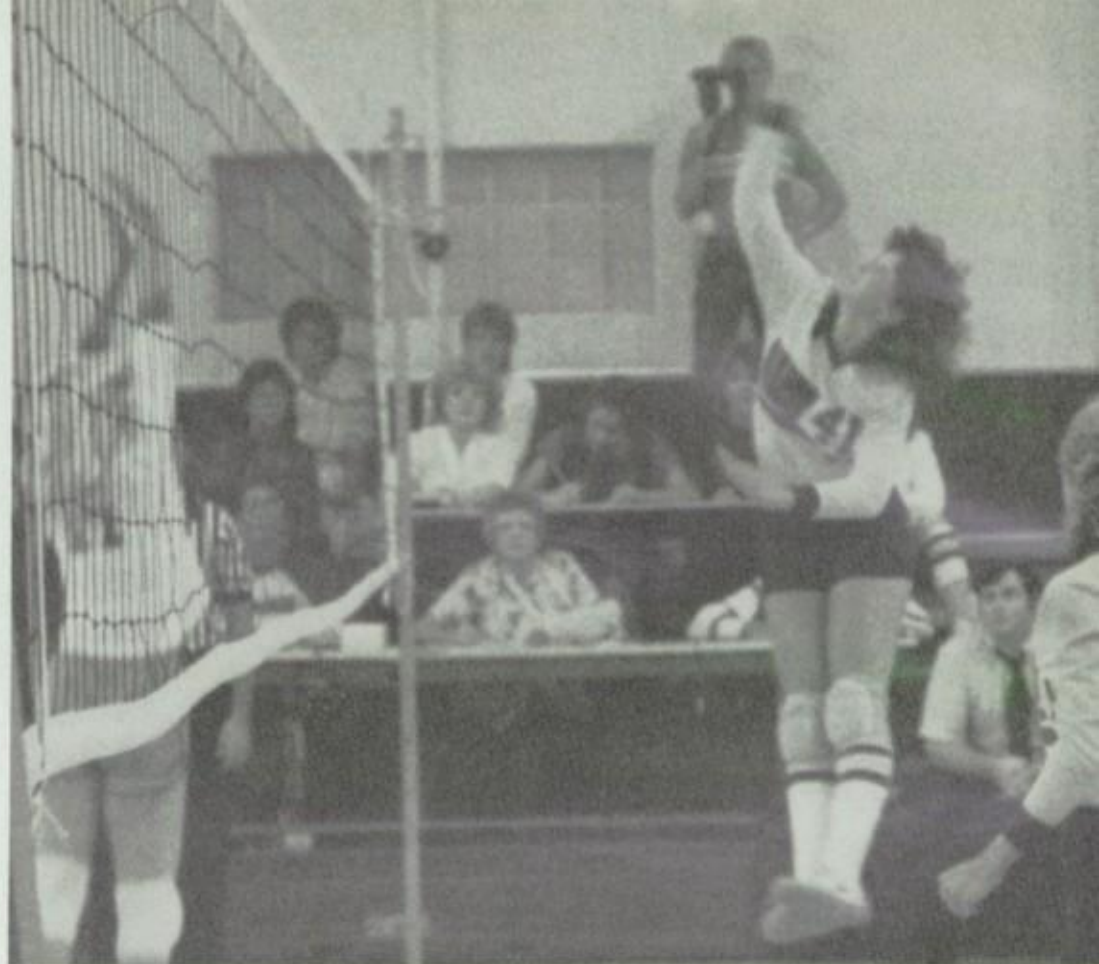

The ladies experienced a disappointing first round loss to Waverly in the Lyon County League Tournament.

The Lady Eagles competed in the Madison Regionals where they defeated Hartford but lost to Madison in three games, 12-15, 15-6, 4-15.

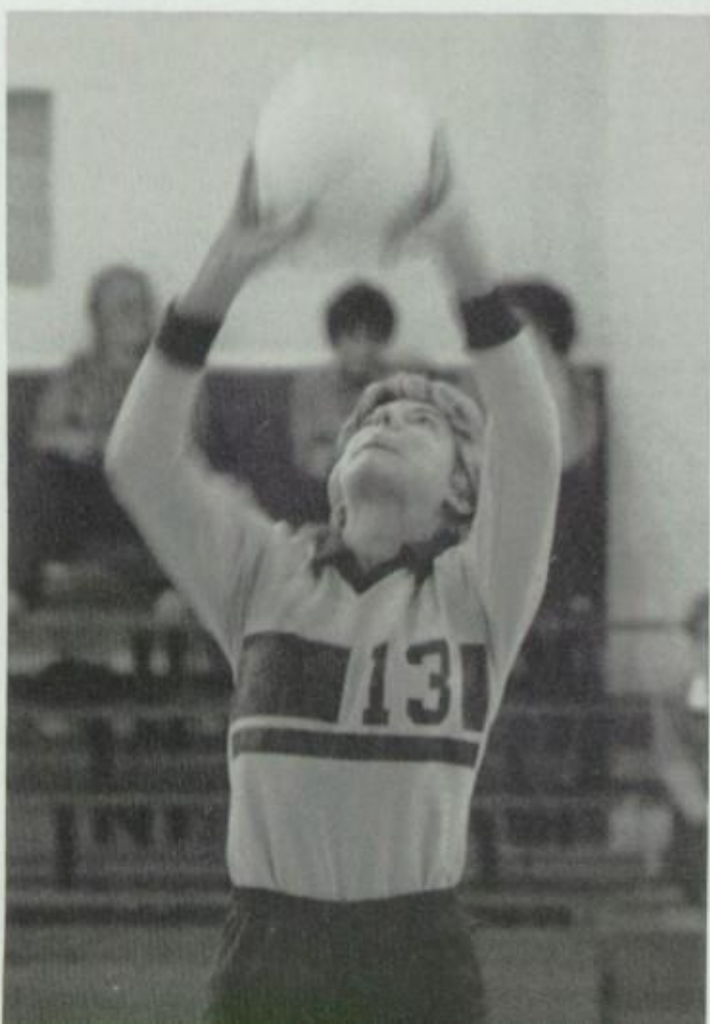

The Lady Eagles' Volleyball Team ended their season with a record of 7-12.

The following ten players lettered: seniors, Linda Kehres, Cindy Redeker, Cheryl Wagner, and Leanne Nuessen; juniors, Camille Schmidt, Sherry Windle, and Norma Kehres; sophomores, Joan Williams, Shauni Mast, and Amy Wecker.

Team knows "Cowan's in Charge"

The members of the 1984-85 basketball team worked very hard and performed well under the direction of Coach Bill Cowan.

The Eagles were able to obtain a 4-4 record in the league to place fifth. They also placed fifth in the league tournament after a first round loss to Madison.

After concluding regular play with an 8-12 record, they began post-season play. In the first round of Regionals, they met and successfully held off Hartford for the fourth time. This win moved them into the semi-final round where they suffered a loss to Madison, their fourth, which ended their season.

One highlight of the year was a trip to ESU. Coach Ron Slaymaker gave them a much needed motivational talk.

Although the record, 9-13, doesn't reflect it, it was a year of work, just short of wins.

Lady Eagles show "Wonder Works"

The main wonder work of the year was when the Lady Eagles defeated the Burrton Chargers for the Sub-State Championship. The Chargers were ranked number one in the State of Kansas in Class 1A. With no time showing on the clock, Cindy Redeker hit one of two freethrows to lead the Lady Eagles to Hays, Kansas for State Competition.

The Lady Eagles opened the season by participating in the Osage City Invitational Tournament. The Lady Eagles lost two of the three games played to 3A schools. Sherry Windle was named to the Osage Tournament Team.

The Lady Eagles received second place in the Lyon County Tournament, were runners-up in the Regional Tournament at Madison, and won Sub-State at El Dorado.

The Lady Eagles compiled a record of 18-8. Four of the Lady Eagles' losses were to Madison and three losses were to 3A schools, Chase County twice, and Mission Valley once. The final loss was to Manhattan-Luckey in the first round of the 1A State Tournament, 28-23.

Leanne Nuessen was named to the Lyon County All-League Basketball team and was named to the 1A State first team by the Topeka Capital.

Track teams "Meet the Time Limit"

Like all other track teams, the Olpe Boys' Track Team tried to meet or even break the time limit.

The team consisted of nine members, ranging from freshmen to seniors. The nine members were as follows: seniors, Ray Nuessen, Eric Dengler, and Terry Wendling; junior, Randy Heins; sophomores, Kyle Schmidt and Pat Markowitz; as well as freshmen, Craig Dengler, Eric Sporing, and Dennis Brown.

The team competed in eight meets. They were Mike's Invitational, the LeRoy Invitational, the West Elk Relays, the Bearcat Relays, the Madison Track Meet, the Emporia Sophomore Meet, and the Lyon County Varsity and Freshmen/Sophomore Track Meets.

Lyon County League placings included the following: second, Eric Sporing (long jump); third, mile relay team; fourth, Kyle Schmidt (javelin), Terry Wendling (long jump and 100 meter dash), and the 440 relay team; fifth Randy Heins (high jump), Roy Nuessen (one mile run); and sixth, Pat Markowitz (long jump), and Kyle Schmidt (200 meter dash).

Over all, it was an enthusiastic season full of hard work and time limits met.

The 1985 girls' track season was one of many injuries, many medals, but few members.

The most memorable of the injuries was Susan Nuessen's "Shot Foot." But the injuries didn't stop the Lady Eagles. Since there was only ten members, they set out to prove that it's quality not quantity that counts in the long run.

The individuals proved their quality at all the track meets but the Lyon County League Meet was the one that really counted. The team placed 6th overall with many individual placings.

Joan Williams broke the LCL Freshmen/Sophomore Meet record and the school record in the 300 meter low hurdles. Joan also placed 1st in the 300 meter low hurdles and 2nd in the 100 meter dash at the Regional Meet. This allowed her to advance to the State Meet.

Joan Williams was also named Track Woman of the Year for her many outstanding accomplishments.

CURRENT EVENTS

NO PEACE FOR BEIRUT — Twenty-three were killed when a car bomb hit the U.S. Embassy in Beirut. The tragedy was followed by questions about security measures.

84-08
TOP MOVIES — Robert Duvall won best actor for his role in "Tender Mercies." "Terms of Endearment" won three Oscars: best picture, best actress Shirley MacLaine, and best supporting actor Jack Nicholson.

84-09
OLYMPIC CHAMPIONS — The U.S. won more Olympic medals than any other country in the Summer Olympics at Los Angeles. Two superstars were Carl Lewis, who won four gold medals in track events, and Mary Lou Retton, the first American woman to win an individual gymnastics Olympic medal.

84-10
PURPLE PRINCE — One of the hottest new musical artists of 1984, Prince rocketed to the top with his nationwide tour and his first movie, "Purple Rain."

84-11
WHERE'S THE BEEF? — Clara Peller, age 80, immortalized the phrase "Where's the beef?" with her TV commercials for Wendy's.

84-12
SWEET NEWS — Dr. Daniel Azarnoff proudly displayed a molecular model of the artificial sweetener NutraSweet. New to the market, it quickly replaced saccharine in many low-calorie foods.

The halls have grown quiet now, and all that's left are memories ... A locker, cluttered with remnants from the years activities, stands open at the end of the hall. The remains remind us of all we've done throughout the year, but these things have been left behind.

- The class schedule that you loved so much.
- The program from the concert where you forgot to take the Coda and messed up the whole song.
- The lunch ticket you never could seem to find.
- A shop card from the project you started at the first of the year and added to the junk pile at the end of the year.
- The program from the play where you forgot your lines and the whole cast took a quick course on adlibbing.
- Love notes from some girl, but you can't remember which one since they changed every week.
- The roster from the Sub-State game where Cindy made the free throw with no time on the clock and the Lady Eagles advanced to the State Tournament.
- The dictionary you "borrowed" from Ms. Cookson.
- The programs from Prom, where Sherry got her chance to make jokes at Mr. Nelson, and the Athletic Banquet, where Mr. Nelson got even.
- The receipt for your yearbook.

Your yearbook ... it will provide you with an accurate account of the years activities since you left their remains behind. But nothing can compare to the actual experience of your high school years.

The Yearbook Staff would like to thank you for your cooperation and help throughout the year. We would also like you to thank yourself for purchasing "The Re-Runs of 1985" so you don't leave behind those wonderful memories.
